

Why sponsor the STACIES?

Be one of the good guys

The STACIES are a celebration of excellence in technical communication. As a STACIES sponsor, you demonstrate your company's support for excellent technical communication to an audience of savvy technical communicators.

Get noticed by a large crowd

The STACIES are a consistently large draw – one of our most well-attended programs of the year. Lots of exposure to potential customers!

Reach every corner of your market

No other venue attracts a broader range of technical communicators in one place. Creators of online content, print documents, and technical art all participate in the STC Competitions and they gather at the STACIES to congratulate the winners. Sponsoring the STACIES allows you to touch participants in every area of technical communication in Boston and Northern New England. A great way to maximize your advertising dollar.

Stretch your advertising budget

Sponsor the STACIES and you will receive a 10% discount on your next advertisement in the Boston Broadside, the premier online newsletter of the Boston Chapter that reaches hundreds of readers.

What are your sponsorship options?
